

The arrows on the side represent the user scrolling with mouse or the hand

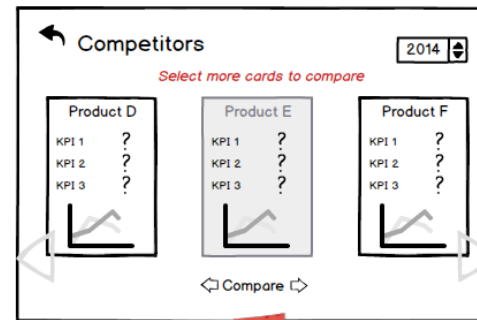

Scrolling to the right

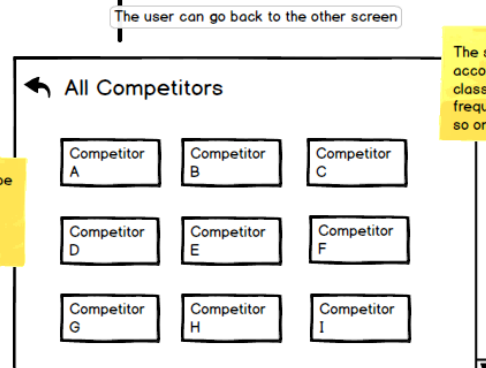

When the user select a card it changes the color

After clicking the compare button, the non-selected cards disappear

Compare button only appears after 2 or more cards have been marked

The user can go back to the other screen

The sort here can be according to name, classification, frequency of use and so on

The sequence should be the same